Roadmap offers the following IT Services to its customers world wide

Application Development

We have a committed team of professionals with relevant skill sets who can deliver better solutions within the deadline of any project. Having encountered vast development projects across different platforms, Roadmap team is capable to take up any kind of project in any domain where the delivery is rest assured.

Having expertise in complete System Development Life Cycle, Software Engineering and having executed different phases of projects, Roadmap team can merely handle any new projects at ease.

Roadmap team is trained to handle both on-site and offshore projects efficiently and effectively. Having the expertise in CASE tools, Roadmap team can easily design, document and product any kind of software at ease.

Roadmap team is technically sound in Oracle family products ranging from Oracle Database, Oracle Designer, Oracle Developer Suite (Form builder, Reports Builder, Graphics Builder), Oracle Enterprise Manager and Backup utilities, Oracle ADF, J2EE, MyEclipse, JBOSS, Weblogic, VB.NET, C#, SQL Server and Mobile Applications.

Application Management

By leveraging our vast experience in the application space, Roadmap can supplement your staff and even manage your entire set of applications. Our experience addresses virtually every type of application-from legacy mainframe systems to Web-based and custom applications. Roadmap Application Management service help organizations increase application efficiency, reduce system downtime, drive high-performance, and extend application life. We ensure that your enterprise has a reliable and available application system through proactive 24X7 monitoring and performance tuning.

Data Warehousing and Business Intelligence

Roadmap provides Data Warehousing and Business Intelligence services to its customers worldwide which allows you to integrate disparate data sources into a single coherent framework for real-time reporting and analysis. Roadmap has the expertise in the leading DW & BI tools available in the market. You can respond faster and more efficiently to changing conditions affecting your organization so that your time is effectively spent on making more accurate and timely business decisions.

Database Administration

Our DBA services provide all important database activities like space management, user management, segment management, backup & recovery, performance tuning, disaster planning, data movement etc. In addition to standard, day-to-day administrative and maintenance activities, production or critical development databases are continuously monitored to detect potential problems and addressing them before they can affect service delivery.

Data Migration

Whenever organization changes the computer systems or upgrades to new systems or when systems merge they may need data migration. We provide this service, so we perform this task programmatically to achieve automated data migration freeing up human resources from the tedious task. Through this process we map the data on the old systems to the new system providing a design for the data extraction, data cleaning and data loading and then finally data verification.

Consulting and IT Training

Roadmap IT Solutions provides learning and consultancy services in the areas of Information Security, IT Service Management and Business Continuity. Apart from the consulting services on the above areas, Roadmap offers training programmes. Roadmap courses are designed based on practical experience and all the programmes are handled by highly experienced professionals. Rather than using generic and pre-packaged courseware, the courses contain even the latest developments so that the participants are completely equipped. The delivery model is fully practical oriented. We can design & deliver special training programmes for the organisations based on any specific requirements.
